

THE BROOKLYN HOSPITAL CENTER
NEW YORK

CHAIR, DEPARTMENT OF RADIOLOGY

The Brooklyn Hospital Center (TBHC) is conducting a search for a Chair, Department of Radiology. The Brooklyn Hospital Center is a 464-bed community teaching hospital located in Downtown section of Brooklyn, New York. TBHC provides comprehensive health services, education and research to their communities and is a member of the New York-Presbyterian Healthcare System (NYPHS).

TBHC serves approximately 1 million residents in the communities of central and north central Brooklyn. Much of the area surrounding TBHC is undergoing gentrification. Further more the hospital market of Brooklyn continues to be quite fluid with changes that create opportunities for further growth and development.

The Department of Radiology which includes Radiation Oncology services is fully equipped with modern imaging services, including Diagnostic Radiology, Nuclear Medicine, Ultrasound, SPECT/CT, MRI and Interventional Radiology all of which are integrated into Infinitt PACS system. In addition the department utilizes Nuance Voice Recognition System, Eclipsys RIS and Allscripts EMR.

The Chair of Radiology will provide strategic leadership, direction and coordination of all clinical endeavors for all aspects of radiology services and will work with institutional leadership to identify business development opportunities including the development of an outpatient market strategy.

The successful candidate will have achievements in clinical care and must have demonstrated management and leadership skills as well as vision for advancing the department's clinical standing. The ability to develop a culture of collaboration, innovation, and accountability is important. Candidates will have an appreciation of urban health issues, as well as an understanding of inner city populations and experience in urban healthcare.
